Re: 63th Street Dump (aka Robb Tyler Landfill, Rosedale, Landfill, etc.)

Dear Ms. Banks:

I am responding to your letter dated September 01, 2009 and addressed to Pabst Brewing Company, (National Brewing Company, Carling National, G. Heileman Brewing Co.), Legal Department.

Please note that Pabst Brewing Company (PBC) is not a successor in interest to National Brewing Company, Carling National, and G. Heileman Brewing Company, or any of them. In 1999, in an asset purchase, PBC acquired certain beer brands from Stroh Brewery Company. Some of those brands that we acquired from Stroh, may have been owned by the above referenced companies. We did not acquire any of the breweries or any of the sites on which said breweries may have been located. Accordingly, PBC has no information on which to base a response. To the extent such information exists, it may be in the possession of the SBC Holdings f/k/a Stroh Brewery Company located at 300 River Place; Suite 500, Detroit, Michigan 48207; Att: John W. Stroh, III; and represented by counsel, George Kuehn, Butzel Long, PC, 150 W. Jefferson Avenue, Suite 900, Detroit, Michigan, 48226. Telephone: (313-225-7058; Facsimile: 313-225-7080.

Sincerely,

Yeoryios C. Apallas
Chief Legal Officer
